

Check out our brand new mountaineering camp;

Looking for a different backcountry experience? Refreshingly new. Tailor made. Logistics and settings for the adventure you want!

Your guides for the 2012 Summer Camp will be the following:

Helen Sovdat
Jim Gudjonson
Peter Amann
Matt Peter
Cyril Shokoples
Roger Laurilla

Your Camp Outfitter

Brad Harrison

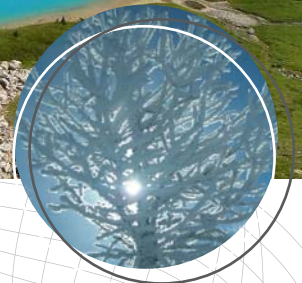

- Coordinator, Canadian Mountain and Ski Guide Program, Thompson Rivers University; currently
- Manager for the Alpine Club of Canada's General Mountaineering Camp; 1985-2011
- Owner/Operator, Golden Alpine Holidays; 1986 - 2007

Bookings or Inquiries

250-374-6049
colwest@shaw.ca

A *BOU*TIQUE MOUNTAINEERING CAMP

SUMMER ADVENTURES FOR

2012

For more information visit www.colwest.ca

Colwest Alpine Adventures | www.colwest.ca

BOUTIQUE MOUNTAINEERING CAMP

Offering a wide range of fulfilling summer mountaineering adventures

A variety of hiking and mountaineering objectives are offered and designed to meet most fitness and skill levels.

Hiking and scrambling

Experience the beauty of the mountains by foot. Non-technical hikes and scrambles are on offer for those not seeking a climbing or mountaineering experience. Rich landscapes from valley to peak; glaciers may be encountered. A trip of a lifetime.

Moderate Climbs

Experience the mystique of the mountains from a bird's eye view. These climbs will appeal to those with some climbing experience and/or a desire to improve their skills and expand their horizons.

Advanced Climbs

Experience the challenge and reward of climbing more technical routes. These climbs will appeal to experienced mountaineers looking to test their skills. Guide to participant ratio will be low, affording the opportunity to take on more challenging terrain.

The 2012 camp will be held in the spectacular Carbonate range area featuring an abundance of wonderful objectives.

Camp fees of $1695.00/week include guiding, catering, accommodation, helicopter support and all applicable taxes. That's right, the price includes the HST.

Smaller Groups, more individualized experience.

During my 25 plus years of managing the General Mountaineering Camp for the Alpine Club of Canada I was frequently complimented on my ability to handle all of the logistics that go along with running a camp of over 45 people in a remote, mountain setting.

I will utilize my expertise to deliver reliable and individualized trips showcasing the excellent service that the GMC was known for. The twist? Trips will be organized in a smaller format with personal service, in a more intimate setting.

Smaller numbers will allow us to explore more remote objectives and personalize services in all facets of the camp (including guiding, catering and general operations). Participants will even be given the option to have private accommodation at no extra charge.

So, come explore the Columbia Mountains in a fresh, new format, backed by traditional experience and incomparable mountain sense. All guides are ACMG certified and staff are folks who have proven their skills to me over many years.

Brad

Dates - 2012
July 22nd - 29th
July 29th - August 5th
August 19th - 26th

For more information on these summer mountaineering opportunities, visit www.colwest.ca